

As a web developer, my website will serve as a showcase of my skills and as an interactive platform for visitors. This site will display a portfolio of my work, highlighting projects I've built. I will include a section where visitors can explore live demos of selected projects, with insights into the tools and techniques I used.

To make the site more engaging, users will be able to create an account, which grants them access to an interactive “mini-project lab” where they can experience small web applications that I regularly update. Each user will also receive a personalized dashboard showing their interactions and favorite projects.
